PROJECTS

ORCA – Marine Ecosystem Reasoning with Collaborative Agents Sep 2026

- Built an agentic AI platform that brings together satellite, weather, ocean and geospatial data to give fishermen, researchers and coastal authorities clear, explainable insights.
- Helps users spot potential fishing zones, understand marine risks, get hazard alerts and plan safer routes, all through a simple chat interface.
- Designed it as an offline mobile app that works without a SIM card or internet, using preloaded marine data so people in remote offshore areas are still covered.

Vault – Distributed Object Storage Platform Sep 2026 (in progress)

- Building a distributed storage system to learn how to keep data scalable, reliable and fault-tolerant. Files are split into chunks and replicated across nodes.
- Go backend with PostgreSQL metadata, Docker storage nodes, checksum integrity checks, repair and recovery workflows, and a Next.js and TypeScript dashboard to monitor objects, replicas and node health.

Aug 2026

- Built an emergency hospital discovery tool that goes beyond "nearest hospital" by comparing location, travel distance, ETA, known capabilities, operational status and how reliable the data is.
- Its CareMatch engine explains why a hospital is recommended and clearly flags anything unavailable or uncertain. A multilingual chatbot supports major Indian languages.
- Also includes maps, an emergency workflow, JWT authentication, role-based dashboards and hospital authority management (Next.js, TypeScript).

N.E.S.T. – Non-Electrical Solar Tracking System

SIH 2024 Finalist

- Worked on a solar tracker that turns panels to follow the sun using only a torsion spring and a clockwork gear mechanism, with no motors, sensors or external power.
- Aimed at keeping panels well-oriented through the day in a low-cost, sustainable way. Our team reached the finals of Smart India Hackathon 2024 with it.

AI Memory Agent with Career Intelligence & Emotion-Aware System

- Built an AI career guidance tool that keeps memory of the user, gives personalised recommendations, and responds to the user's emotional tone.
